DISREGARDED MERIT.

The War of the Pension Department on Old Soldiera.

HOKE SMITH'S BIG SWEEP

Of Efficient Clerks Because Politics Counted Before Real Worth-In Some Cases the Action of Dismissal Bordered on the Brutal-An Official War on the Old Soldier Element. The Cause of Spoils Above All Other Considerations-The Law Violated With Impusity.

Washington, June 20.—A dismissal of over 100 clerks in the pension bureau recently is causing a great deal of wellmerited criticism, Secretary Hoke Smith and his subordinate, Pension Commissioner Lochren, have acted on their usual lines in making the reduction. The law regarding the retention of old soldiers, where they are competent, in preference to others has been totally disregarded and the veterans who have been earning their living in the bureau have suffered more than their share.

A Democratic Congress, upon the recommendation of Commissioner Lock-ren, authorized the reduction of the clerical force of the pension bureau to the extent of 169. It was argued that there was at least that many superfluous employes, or rather employes who were inefficient, engaged in the bureau. The condition of the work and the number of claims that are waiting action did not in the opinion of friends of the old solders and their widows justify any reduction of the working force in the bureau.

If there were inefficient clerks their positions could have been easily filled with competent men and women and the examination of pension claims con-tinued at a reasonable rate. The Democrats, however, were anxious to make a record for "economy," and the saving by dismissal of 169 clerks at $1,000 or by dismissal of 109 cierks at $1,000 or $1,200 a year each was considered a big itom by them. In addition to the practice of Democratic "economy" the authorization of Congress gave the head of the pension bureau a chance to curry favor with the present administration by the dismissal of old soldiers. The dismissals that were made were

The dismissals that were made were of an almost brutal character. Secreof an almost brutal character. Secre-tary Smith claims that a list of re-ductions was made upon the efficiency record of the clerks, but the victims of the order tell an entirely different story. As an evidence of their unwillingness that the public should know who the clerks are that were dismissed, Secre-tary Smith and Commissioner Lochren refuse to give out the list. There is good reason to believe that if the list were known some of the best employes of the bureau would be found upon it. The secretary and the commissioner assert that the publication of the list would cast a stigma upon those who are upon cast a stigma upon those who are upon it. This is equivalent to an official statement that all who were turned out of the office were incompetent or otherwise undesirable employes. One of the old clerks who was dropped, in speaking of the claim that the dismissals were made for inefficiency, said this afternoon: ternoon:

The public would be led to believe that inefficiency cut an important figure in the question as to who should be dropped. I know of several who were retired whose efficiency record, like my own, was above ninety, and like myself, were old soldiers and had no other rela-tives in a covarmant effice. tives in a government office.

MANY POOR ONES RETAINED. "I know also that many clerks were retained whose records are bad, both inside and outside of the bureau. A num ber of this class are young men with no responsibilities, frequenters of Jackson responsibilities, frequenters of Jackson City, the pool rooms, etc., and always behind financially. I think it unfair to withhold the names of the discharged employes and then comment adversely upon them. Mention was made of an old soldier who was dropped, who received a salary of $500, and his daughter $1,200. I know three just such cases, only that one of them has three relatives on Unice San's pay roll and they only that one of them has three relatives on Uncle Sam's pay roll, and they are not old soldiers either. I for one am doing no kicking. I know of no congressional investigation, but I am down and out in order to cover up a wrong that has been done me."

One of the most shameful acts in connection with this roduction of force was the dismissal of the granddaughter of Francis Scott Key, the author of "The Star Spangled Banner." A wave of indignation rolled over the whole country when it became known that this lady, who has been working quietly and efficiently for many years at a moderate salary, was turned out of office and left in very straightened circumstances. in very straightened circumstances. Commissioner Lochren could make no explanation of his conduct except to express a hypocritical serrow that Miss Key's name should have been on the list for dismissal. There is no doubt in the world that her services were much more efficient than those of many political favorites whom Commissioner Lochren passed by when making up his list. Her salary was more fairly and honestly earned than that of scores of others who have no interest in the cauze of the old soldier beyond that of drawing pay for examining his claims for pensions in order to find a flaw in them. The indignation with regard to the disin very straightened circumstances. The indignation with regard to the dis

The indignation with regard to the dis-missal of Miss Key became so intended that there were hints and initimations of a reinstatement. She has not yet been reinstatated, however, and Secre-tary Smith denies that he ever made a promise that she should be.

The old soldiers who have been turned out of the bureau feel that they have no redress from the present administration. The law with regard to giving preference to veterans of the army and navy and their widows has been violated in spirit if not in letter. An exclerk of the pension bureau in discussing the ruthless slang ther of reputations by the dismissal of old soldiers under by the dismissal of old soldiers under the stigma of incompatency, said this evening:

"I know that the revised statutes and civil service, rules in layor of the Union soldiers have not only been ignored in many bureaus of the government service, but especially defied in the pension office. I am serry to say that under the present administration there is no remoty or restress for a Union soldier, and the only way I see for the future is to elect only patriotic, honest mon as representatives, who dare to force the representatives, who dare to force the bonds of bureaus to do justice and execute the laws. "I, for my part, cannot understand why the American people tolerate such inhuman, unchristian and inconsistent treatment toward the defenders of the treatment toward the defenders of the union. Anarchism, riot, socialism and other isms will increase on account of such actions of the servants of the people who are put in power to see that the laws of the country are enforced, but on the contrary defy the law, retain unscrupulous chiefs of divisions, who, per-laps, in turn for a drink of whisky, protect and uphold worthless and inefficient clorks and cause the dismissal of many ex-soldiers, who are known to be efficient and in every respect entitled by law to hold their positions."

Commissioner Loctren, in an interview to-day, said that in making selections for dismissals he took those who would suffer the least hardship by being turned out, and in some instances those selected had higher records as clerks than others who were retained. This rule of "tempering the wind to the shorn lamb" was certainly not observed in the case of Miss Key, and other instances are coming up daily where the discharged clerks have been reduced to want. It is not improbable that when Congress meets the dismissal of the old soldiers and the violation of the law with regard to them will be thoroughly investigated.

MAXWELL-HEAVNER.

A Brilliant Wedding Celebrated at Buckhannon-Prominent People Present. Special Disputch to the Intelligencer, BUCKHANNON, W. VA., June 20 .- This morning at 8 o'clock, in the M. E. church, was colobrated one of the prottiest weddings which ever occurred here. At that hour Mr. Frank Maxwell, of Harrison county, and Miss Reta, daughter of Capt, J. W. Hoavner, of this place, were united in marriage by Rev. C. E. Clark, the pastor, assisted by Rev. B. W. Hutchinson, president of the West Virginia Conference Seminary.

Amid the sweet strains of the wed-

Amid the sweet strains of the wed-ding chorus of Lohengrin, rendered by Mrs. U. G. Young, organist, and the quartette, composed of Mrs. C. L. Bar-low, Miss Lillie Steele, Dr. D. T. E. Cas-teele and Mr. Frank Wright, the bridal party entered the church in the follow-ing order. The group accompanied by party entered the curren in the blow-ing order: The groom, accompanied by M. D. Post, esq., of Whoeling, as best man, entered by the right aisle and proceeded to the chancel, where they were mot by Mr. Frank Latham, P. H. Koblegard, Ralph Heavner, Lee Max-well, I. Maxwell and Carl Collman, ushers.

Following the ushers came Miss Mamie Hurst, maid of honor, and Miss Maxwell, sister of the groom, diest bridesmaid. Then came the other bridesmaids, Misses Carrie Maxwell, another sister of the groom, Madge Bennett, of Weston, Maud Farusworth, of Buckhannon, and Gay Brown, of Morgantown. Miss Heavner, leaning on the arm of her father, and accompanied by her little cousin, Mary Reger, and Emma Maxwell ast train bearers, came next, and proceeded to the chancel, where the ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church was gone through.

The bride, who is one of Buckhannon's attractive and popular young ladies, was handsomely attired in cream satin, trimmed with chiffor and orange biossoms, and wore several beautiful diamonds, the latter being the wedding gift from the groom. The groom worthe conventional black and the bridesmaids white silk. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion by the ladies of the church, and was highly praised for its beauty.

At the close of the creemony the bridal party, together with mere than a hundred invited guests, retired to "Riverside," the beautiful home of Captain and Mrs. J. W. Heavner, where at 9 o'clock a wedding breakfast and reception were enjoyed by all. While it was stated in the invitations that there would be no presents, yet a number of the relatives and the more intimate friends gave the happy couple some elegant reminders of the occasion. These are but tokens of the high esteem in which these young people are held and the good wishes all have for their future.

The bride and groom left this afternoon in a carriage for White Sulphur Springs and other pleasure receits in this state and Virginia, and will spend some time on their wedding tour before returning. It is probable that they may make this place their home, although they will spend some time as Mr. Maxwell's delightful home in Harrison county.

Amog those present from a distance were Mr. W. G. Brown and Mrs. Marushers.
Following the ushers came Miss

WARM EATHER ISDOM,

COME MERCHANTS would) have you believe that trade enters a condition of torpidity about July 1, and remains so till the cool days of September wake it to life and netivity again. But, begging your pardon, that is not true. There is no season of the year in which people do not buy goods; there is no season in which they do not want them. By the same token, there is no season in which it will not pay to advertise.

However, if your neighbor has this old-fashioned notion, and is too conservative to advertise now, there is all the better chance for you. If you think people are not hunting bargains in warm weather, try it.

Everybody is not out of town, by a large majority!
